Covid-19: Schools in England won't reopen until at least 8 March says PM

Head teachers say the delay is "no surprise" - and reopening must be done safely.

And Labour says half term should be used to vaccinate teachers to help schools stay open.

Nasa: Blue jet space lightning spotted by scientists from the ISS

A blue jet and and an elve

Now when you think of lightning you think of bright flashes cutting down through storm clouds just ahead of a huge crash of thunder.

But did you know that's just one type of lightning - and in some cases, that lightning can go upwards into space?!

The phenomenon was spotted by the European Atmosphere-Space Interactions Monitor (ASIM) near the island of Naru in the Pacific Ocean.
